POLYISO PRICE INCREASE ANNOUNCEMENT

To: Hunter Panels Personnel, Sales Reps, Valued Customers

Date: May 11, 2017

Over the last two weeks, Hunter Panels has received notice of significant increases in the costs of key raw materials used in the manufacturing process of Polyisocyanurate insulation. These raw material cost increases are in addition to those that led to the April 3, 2017 Polyisocyanurate price increase and are the result of both increased feedstock costs and supply constraints arising from long term global manufacturing interruptions.

Accordingly, we find it necessary to implement a price increase of 8% on all H-Shield flat and H-Shield tapered Polyisocyanurate roof products effective July 10, 2017. Additionally, this announcement includes an increase to the premium charged for H-Shield CG and Tapered H-Shield CG roof products to $.10/sq. ft. also effective July 10, 2017. All existing quotes will be honored through their expiration date; however, new quotes going forward will reflect this increase.

As always, we will continue to be a partner in your efforts to sell Hunter Polyiso with the most responsive service, and the highest quality product we can provide. Your loyalty is the most important consideration we have and I thank you in advance for your continued support.

Should you have any questions or need additional information, please contact me or your respective Hunter Regional Sales Manager.

Sincerely,
