RE: Price Increase Effective November 2, 2020

As a result of continued raw material increases for polyiso roofing products, Hunter Panels finds it necessary to implement a 5-7% price increase on all roofing insulation products effective November 2, 2020. Existing quotes with expiration dates after November 2nd will be honored, however all new quotes with expiration dates after November 2nd, will include this increase. New orders must ship prior to November 2nd in order to receive current pricing.

We regret the need to pass along this increase and will continue to do our best to mitigate increases as best we can. If you have any questions please contact me, your respective Hunter Regional Manager or local Hunter Sales Representative.

Thank you for your understanding and continued support.

Sincerely,

Matt Peterson
