Last week, the polyiso industry received a force majeure announcement from one of its pentane suppliers. As pentane is a major raw component needed for the manufacture of polyiso products, this announcement could be cause for concern. However, the supplier affected is a secondary supplier for Hunter Panels. Our primary supplier has assured us that they can meet any and all of our demand during this unfortunate situation.

As typically occurs around Memorial Day, 4th of July, and Labor Day holidays, lead times can be expected to increase. This is a normal occurrence in our business and not related to the pentane supply concern. To that end, there is no need for distributors to “stock up” ahead of demand levels.

Please be assured that Hunter Panels is ready, willing and excited to supply your insulation needs in the future and with no disruption. We thank you for your business and your continued support.

If you need more information, please contact me, Ed Krusec or one of your fabulous Hunter Panels Regional Managers.

Sincerely,

Jim Whitton
